Both Roblox and Fortnite have made plenty of recent headline-grabbing attempts at said experiences. Interactive sponsored worlds have been created as in-game events, supporting the releases of Hollywood blockbusters Ready Player One, Spider-Man: Homecoming and Star Wars: Rise of Skywalker, replete with Easter eggs and exclusive trailers. In February, Fortnite hosted a film festival screened on in-game cinema screens. There are, however, a few easy things you can do to minimise the risk. First off, as mentioned above, don't tell your kid the password to their Roblox account. The reason behind this is the 'free Robux' scams that proliferate the internet. These sites get your details by disguising themselves as sites that look like an official Roblox page and encourage people to log into their Roblox account via their page to claim 'free Robux'. If you do this you have just given the scammers all of the information they need to take over the account and clear it out. No matter how tempting these sites are you need to know that there is NO SUCH THING AS FREE ROBUX. Only purchase Robux using the methods mentioned before.

If any company were able to consolidate power over the Metaverse's formation and become its de facto gatekeeper, the control they could wield over the dissemination of information and in setting their own commercial and security practices would be enormous.
